HISTORY:

The tradition of Al-Hussan education in Saudi Arabia began in 1956 when Sheikh Abdel Aziz Rashid Al-Hussan started the Arab Cultural Institute for adult education. In the following year Al-Hussan Modern Girls School, the first girls’ school in the Eastern Province of Saudi Arabia was opened. Today there are nineteen schools and other educational institutes throughout the Eastern Province rated among the best in Saudi Arabia, with enrolment of over 10,000 students. Today his son Rashid Abdel Aziz Al-Hussan is the president of the Al-Hussan Group of Companies continuing his father’s vision of education for all. The Al-Hussan International Schools are the most recent addition to the organization and although young in age they have grown steadily.

Al-Hussan International School is located in the Eastern Province of Saudi Arabia and was opened in September 1998. It has two separate divisions, boys section and girls section on the same campus, however, the pre-school which is at a separate location is in the near vicinity.

A year later Jubail International School (JIS) was established in Jubail, JIS also consists of separate boys and girls sections. In June 2006 Orbit International School was added to the group with separate boys and girls sections. In 2011 Al-Hussan International Riyadh School was established.

Al-Hussan International Grammar School is the new addition to the Al-Hussan International Schools Group. Opened doors on August 23, 2015. Initially the school catering for students from KG-I to Grade 3 boys and girls but these grades will increase as the next development stage of the campus is completed.
Al Hussan International Schools are English medium day schools, catering to the educational needs of students from KG to Grade 12.

Waiting lists are now in existence for several grades – a testament to parental belief in the standard of education offered in these establishments.

KG I and KG II courses are based on the Early Years Foundation Stage (EYEF) from the Department of Education UK.

KG III to Grade 5 courses are from CPCP (Cambridge Primary Checkpoint Program) issued by CIE (Cambridge International Examinations) for English, Math, and Science. All other programs have been developed in-house and are vertically and horizontally aligned. American and British curriculum resources are used in the primary grades for English, Math and Sciences. The objectives and content of such course materials are in alignment with the subject curricula for the respective grades.

Grade 6 to Grade 8 courses are from Cambridge Secondary 1 Program issued by CIE (Cambridge International Examinations) for English, Math and Science. All other programs have been developed in-house and are vertically and horizontally aligned. These grades are the Pre-IGCSE classes and all subjects are compulsory. A wide range of UK based publications are used in the middle school.

The sequence in curriculum ensures that the expected outcomes of learning of each grade build on those of the previous grade level.

The instructional strategies followed are research based and facilitate active learning. The teaching learning methods in primary grades are chiefly those that are prescribed in the Teacher’s Guides of Harcourt Publications.

The assessments are outcomes based and are designed to assess if expected outcomes have been achieved.

- Class work and Homework are assessed in all grades, which make alignment between classroom instruction and assessment obviously easy to achieve.
- Standardized Harcourt assessments are used in the Primary School for English, Math and Science, modified to be in alliance with the CIPP progression and achievement method of testing. Other subjects use teacher prepared assessments.
- Teacher-made assessments are used for the Middle School. Checkpoint past papers are used as a guide in their related subjects.
- In the High School, apart from teacher-made questions, many past papers of CIE are used as resources to devise assessments. This ensures that the assessments align with the objectives prescribed in the CIE syllabus.
- External examinations such as CIPP (Cambridge International Primary Program), Checkpoint, IGCSE and A Levels are other tools for assessing if expected outcomes are being achieved.

Senior members of staff monitor teacher’s planning and delivery of the above programs ensuring a variety of teaching methods and techniques are being used.

The Academic Coordinator is responsible for all continuous assessments and End of Semester exams. Seating plans, Proctoring Schedules, Marking and Verifying Schedules and Marks Sheets are all prepared by the coordinator. Formative assessments are in the form of continuous assessment including class work and homework marks, which make up for 60% of the final grade. Summative assessments are carried out at the end of each semester known as End of Semester Exams this forms the other 40% of the final grade.

Students who are underperforming are brought to the attention of the management via a Deficiency Report or Student Progress Report. Parents are informed if their child is at risk of failing. Parent – Teacher meetings are held every semester and parents can view an end of semester report card.

TIPS FOR PARENTS

We believe in parents as partners in education. When we work together, we make a strong team, to improve students’ learning. Here are some homework tips and other general tips for parents to help the school and their children do a better job:

- See that your child attends school regularly and arrives punctually
- Be involved and attend parent-teacher meetings to follow up on your child’s performance.
- Support the school’s discipline policy
- Show an interest in your child’s homework assignments. Be positive about homework.
- Help your child with time management.
- Establish a set daily plan for doing homework.
- When your child asks for help, provide guidance not answers. Let your child develop a sense of responsibility and self-dependability.
- Praise your child for successfully completing homework to build his/her self-esteem.
PARENT TEACHER MEETING

In compliance with our belief in parents as partners in their children’s learning, the school holds Parent-Teacher meetings and encourages continuous parental contact with the school. School wide PT meetings are held at the beginning of the school year and at the end of semester 1 and 2 to discuss students’ performance and progress. Furthermore, parents are encouraged to schedule appointments to meet staff members whenever necessary. These appointments can be arranged with the school’s receptionist.

The amount of studying to be done at home varies with the academic load, the achievement level expected in the course and the student’s persistence. The school staff places importance on the quality not quantity of homework given. Reading is expected to be done on daily basis for a short time span in the pre and primary school.

All homework assignments are expected to be handed in on the due date as specified by the teacher. Any delinquency will negatively affect the total grade of that subject.

The main objective of students discipline is to create a safe and orderly school environment. Students are expected to demonstrate positive behavior, in a responsible manner and exercise good judgment in all areas and activities in which they are involved whether in the classroom, the hallways, the playground or elsewhere. The intention is to help students develop the self-discipline needed to become contributing and responsible members of the school community, respect for themselves and others, and to develop the responsibility and acceptance of consequences for their behavior.

Disciplinary action, which is always appropriate to the offense, is used in a positive logical and consistent manner. Corporal punishment is never used. Parents are made aware of disciplinary issues as the need arises and as necessary requested to be part of the solution.

Students from Grades 6 - 12 are organized to form a student council. They operate under a constitution. At least one senior management member sponsors the group, and approval for projects must be obtained from the Head of School.

Called the Al-Hussan International Schools Student Council, this student organization that started in 2003 promotes leadership and fund-raising skills. Projects and activities will be conducted throughout the year, giving council members experience in these skills. At the same time these activities contribute to the benefit of the school morale and finance.

Student Council members are elected during the first quarter by their peers and consist of one student per class grouping.
